Guided Missile A-Sub Planned

ELSIE JANIS DIES — Elsie Janis (above), sweetheart of the World War I Doughboy, died Sunday at the age of 66 in Beverly Hills, Calif. Would Be Built On West Coast

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (U)—The Navy disclosed today it is developing a new strategic weapon — a nuclear-powered submarine capable of launching guided missiles.

If Congress approves the plan, the new departure in A-boats will probably be built in the Navy's Mare Island yard in California.

Secretary of the Navy Thomas said in a statement the submarine will be equipped to fire the Regulus surface-to-surface missile, which has a range of 300 miles. The United States is in a race with Russia to develop missiles with 1,500- and 3,000-mile ranges, both carrying atomic warheads.

The Navy has been firing shorter-range missiles from submarines for several years in preparation for this new phase of push-button warfare.

Navy Changes Plans

Originally the Navy planned to build a conventionally powered sub for use as a missile ship. It was approved by Congress for the 1956 construction program.

But the House Armed Services Committee has now been informed of the Navy's intention to design the vessel around an atomic engine, which will give it a boost in speed and far greater cruising range.

Navy officials said the atomic power plant will cost considerably more than conventional equipment, and additional money may have to be diverted from other sources. The service is required to inform Congress of any intention to modify plans previously approved by the legislators.

A-Sub Fleet In Making

There are now two conventional-powered submarines equipped to launch missiles.

The Mare Island yard recently started work on the first atomic submarine to be built on the Pacific Coast. The Navy has a fleet of eight atomic subs either built, under construction or authorized. Actually only one is in operation, but the second is awaiting commissioning and keels have been laid for two others.

Six more are included in the shipbuilding budget recently submitted to Congress.

U. S. Evicts Peron From Colon Hotel

PANAMA, Feb. 27 (U)—The United States got rid of Juan D. Peron as a tenant today but he stuck around as a neighbor.

The exiled ex-dictator of Argentina moved by request from a U. S.-owned hotel in Colon and wound up in a new apartment house just around a corner from the U. S. Embassy offices here.

The U. S. State Department put pressure on Peron after members of Congress expressed displeasure over his living in Colon's Washington Hotel. It is in Panama territory but is owned by the Panama Canal Co., a U. S. government subsidiary.

Rep. Tunney (D-N.J.) declared it was "an outrage that this terrible person Peron should be given a home in a U. S. government-owned hotel."

Peron had been paying about $12.50 a day for his two rooms in the hotel. His new two-bedroom apartment will cost him about $110 a month.

Cyprus Conference

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Feb. 27 (U)—British Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd conferred all day today with officials on this troubled island. There was speculation his surprise visit indicated a compromise plan to restore peace in the making.

Elsie Janis, 66, Sweetheart Of World War I AEF, Dies

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Feb. 27 (U)—Elsie Janis—the "Little Elsie" who sang and danced her way into the hearts of World War I Doughboys—died last night at her home. She was 66.

The former "Sweetheart of the A.E.F." succumbed after several years of failing health.

Of her many friends in show business, only Mary Pickford was reported at her bedside when she died.

Miss Janis, a top comedy star of Broadway and London for a 20-year period beginning in 1906, would have been 67 next Tuesday, March 6.

She was born Elsie Janis Bierbower in Columbus, Ohio, in 1889. At the age of 8 she made her stage debut and soon became a popular favorite when she hit Broadway as

12 Nations Meet To Launch Atom Peace Agency

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (U)—Twelve nations met here today to adopt a charter for a world atom-for-peace agency, and delegates from both sides of the Iron Curtain expressed hopes of success.

James Wadsworth, head of the American delegation which is host for the closed door conference, welcomed the 11 other groups, saying:

"The world is impatient to get on with peaceful development of nuclear power."

Wadsworth added:

"We believe that the 12 states here have a responsibility to look beyond their own interest and find a common denominator, even though perhaps it will not be our ideal of cooperation for peaceful atomic development."

Georgi N. Zarubin, Soviet ambassador to the United States and head of the Soviet delegation, surprised newsmen by posing cheerfully for pictures and, contrary to custom, stopping long enough to reply to questions. Asked if he, too, was hopeful of success Zarubin said:

"Always I hope we will reach agreement."

Other countries represented by delegations generally headed by their Washington ambassadors were Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Czechoslovakia, France, India, Portugal, South Africa and Britain.

Bus Boycotters Hold Another Mass Meeting

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 27 (U)—Bus-boycotting Montgomery Negroes were called to another mass meeting tonight while the first of their leaders awaited trial on a grand jury indictment.

Tonight's rally was scheduled at the Holt St. Baptist Church, where the first mass meeting was held at the outset of the bus segregation protest last December. The pastor, Rev. A. W. Wilson, is one of 24 Negro ministers indicted for boycotting.

Meanwhile, the trial of Negro Atty. Fred D. Gray, one of the legal spokesmen for the boycott who is under indictment for unlawful practice, was set for Friday in Circuit Court.

Farm 'Lobbyists' Under Fire

Humphrey Hits Anti-Rigid Prop "Propaganda"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (U)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today that "lobbyists" pushing the Eisenhower administration's farm proposals are making the "oil and gas people" look like pikers.

Humphrey told the Senate that thousands of dollars are being spent on a "barrage of propaganda" promoting proposals put forward by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

The senator did not name any lobbyists. But he said the money is being concentrated in the Midwest on television and newspaper advertising.

Humphrey is a strong supporter of the idea of government price supports for farm products at a fixed 90 per cent of parity. This conflicts with Benson's advocacy of a flexible support system based on the principle of supply and demand.

350-Page Speech

Humphrey got started late today on a 350-page speech he said would take two or three days to complete.

He promised that his speech would dispose of a number of "myths" which he said have been created about American agriculture.

One myth, he said, is that farmers "ride around in Cadillacs and smoke 50-cent cigars." He said another one—which he called a "lulu"—is the idea that present farm troubles arose from an "inherited mess" the Republicans got from the Democrats.

Humphrey talked to a nearly empty Senate. But when he quit for the day a group of people in the gallery loudly applauded him.

Voting May Start Monday

It appeared likely that the issue of restoring fixed 90 per cent price supports will be the first one up for a vote when the Senate gets around to calling the roll on the bill.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM) announced he was calling up his amendment which would knock out the section in the committee bill reinstating the 90 per cent props.

This made the amendment the pending business, and will bring it before the Senate first unless Anderson withdraws it or an amendment is offered to his proposal before the vote.

Majority Leader Johnson (D-Tex.) told the Senate that the voting probably would begin next Monday.

T-H Ban Doesn't Prohibit Unfair Practice Strike

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (U)—The Supreme Court today upheld the right of employees to strike against unfair labor practices during the Taft-Hartley Act's 60-day "cooling off" period.

The 6-3 decision does not affect the Taft-Hartley 60-day ban on strikes for economic benefits, such as higher wages.

Justice Burton spoke for the majority in holding the ban does not apply to strikes resulting from an employer's unfair labor practices.

Burton said there is inherent inequality in any interpretation of the act that "penalizes one party to a contract for conduct induced solely by the unlawful conduct of the other, thus giving advantage to the wrongdoer."

Justice Frankfurter, speaking for himself and Justices Minton and Harlan, said Congress intended to prohibit all strikes, for whatever cause, during the "cooling off" period.

"If the provision stripping strikers of their status as employees during the 60-day work period is to have any usefulness at all and not be an idle collection of words, the fact a strike during that work period is induced by the employer's unfair labor practices is immaterial," Frankfurter said.

Three Women Killed When Train Hits Car

PESOTUM, Ill., Feb. 27 (U)—The streamliner City of Miami—racing toward Chicago at 100 miles an hour—smashed into an automobile at a grade crossing in this central Illinois village today, killing three women.

The dead were tentatively identified as Dorothy K. Moore, 37, Tuscola, Ill., and Betty Jean Lewis, about 20, and Doris Lane Smith, about 19, both of Villa Grove, Ill.

Jet Pilot Bails Out

CHESTERTOWN, Md., Feb. 27 (U)—An F4 jet airplane, built by North American Aviation Co. for the Navy, crashed near the Maryland-Delaware line today but the pilot parachuted to safety.

The plane was flown by a test pilot for North American. A Navy spokesman at Patuxent Naval Air Station said the Navy had not yet accepted delivery of the plane.

11 Russian Red Party Leaders Are Re-Elected

MOSCOW, Feb. 27 (U)—The Soviet Communist party's Central Committee kept the U.S.S.R.'s "collective leadership" intact today. It re-elected all 11 members of the ruling Presidium and retained Nikita S. Khrushchev as the party's first secretary.

The committee, however, expanded the number of alternate Presidium members from two to six, naming Defense Minister Georgi K. Zhukov to one of the four new places. Extension of this honor to the World War II hero once again underscored the rise of the armed forces' influence since Stalin's death.

Zhukov Is Exception

Moscow radio, broadcasting the names, listed the Presidium in alphabetical order, denoting equality of leadership, but when referring to the alternates, placed Zhukov's name first. This was deemed significant of his prominent position in the party's councils.

This Presidium—called the Politburo in the Stalin era—rules the party and the nation in the name of the Central Committee of 133 members. The Committee was chosen at the party's 20th Congress last week. As first secretary, Khrushchev remains boss of the party's vast apparatus of more than seven million party members and candidate members. Khrushchev became party boss in 1953 when Georgi Malenkov, then premier, stepped down from the post. Stalin kept the job to himself until he died.

Woman Gains Top Bracket

For the first time in Soviet history, a woman achieved the upper reaches of the party apparatus. Ekaterina Alexandrovna Furseva became an alternate member of the Presidium. Chief of the Moscow party apparatus for some time, she had been singled out by Khrushchev in recent months for notable honors.

Scientists Criticize AEC's Fall-Out Effects Statement

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (U)—A group of scientists today criticized the Atomic Energy Commission for "misleading" language in connection with the hereditary effects of the fall-out from A-bomb and H-bomb tests.

Five members of the Cambridge, Mass., branch of the Federation of American Scientists said it is true that, percentage-wise, the number of harmful genetic "mutations" deemed possible as a result of the present rate of atomic testing represent "only a negligible" increase in the number of mutations carried by the human race as a result of other factors.

In fact, they said, genetic hazards from medical X rays may be at least as great and perhaps even twice as great as those from the present rate of "fall-out."

But, said the group in a special report, "as individuals we are sensitive to the value of the individual."

Demos Demand Dulles Tell Truth About Red 'Peril'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (U)—Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) opened a new Democratic attack on Secretary of State Dulles in the Senate today by accusing him of withholding the truth about "our present peril" from Soviet Russia.

He said Dulles may endanger administration hopes for passage of a foreign aid program by implying that "the battle against the Soviet bid for world dominion has been won."

Fulbright, abetted by fellow Democrats, challenged Dulles to "tell America the truth" as the Senate Foreign Relations Committee called in Undersecretary of State Hoover for a closed door examination of the critical Middle East situation.

Hoover and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, were questioned about the military situation in that area as the aftermath of Dulles' testimony at an open committee meeting Friday.

Fulbright, a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said that Dulles, in his testimony, "misleads public opinion, confuses it, feeds it pap, tells it that it will suppress the proof of its own senses, it will see that Soviet triumphs are really defeats and Western defeats are really triumphs."

He questioned whether public opinion is prepared to "make new sacrifices" under the circumstances and asked:

"Will our people believe us when we ask them to approve new outlays?"

Plane On Test Hop Explodes On Ohio Farm

Unoccupied House, Barn And Garage Swept By Flames

DAYTON, Ohio, Feb. 27 (U)—A four-engine Superfort carrying 11 crewmen on a brief test flight, crashed and then exploded on a farm near here today, killing all aboard.

Eyewitness accounts indicated the big plane was crippled, and heading for an emergency landing when it crashed.

A series of explosions ripped it apart and scattered bits of wreckage over a nine-acre area. After hitting the ground it first ploughed into an unoccupied farm dwelling.

Flames splashed over the house, an adjoining barn and garage housing two automobiles. All the buildings burned to the ground. Mrs. Madeline Henderson, owner of the property and a widow, is vacationing in Florida.

The plane was attached to Wright Air Development Center at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near here. Officials there said it took off for the brief test flight at 11:45 a.m., and crashed at 11:55 a.m. on the Henderson farm, situated on the Wilmington Pike in Montgomery County near the Warren County line.

Two men aboard were civilian technicians. Six of the nine Air Force men had 18 children among them. The Air Force identified the pilot as Lt. Col. Channing Stowell Jr., 37, Dayton, father of three.

At least five eyewitnesses noticed that the plane was in trouble before it crashed.

Four Killed, Farm Wife, Son Hurt In B47 Crash

KNOB NOSTER, Mo., Feb. 27 (U)—A B47 jet bomber exploded, then crashed into a farmhouse today, killing the four crewmen and injuring a mother and her son slightly.

The plane was from the Whiteman Air Force Base near here. It crashed 10 miles from the base three minutes after takeoff.

Base officers withheld names of the crewmen.

Mrs. Marjorie Curtis, 36, and her son, Danny, 14, were in the farmhouse. The mother's hair was singed. The boy was singed on an ankle and suffered a cut on a foot. Both were shaken, badly, but did not require hospital treatment.

The house and a chickenhouse were destroyed by fire.

D. E. Wheeler, who lives two miles west of the crash scene, said he saw the plane explode about 200 to 300 feet in the air and a wing came off.

Gronchi Arrives In United States

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (U)—President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy came to Washington today, the first Italian chief of state ever to visit the United States.

Gronchi told dignitaries who welcomed him at the airport that cooperation between his country and the United States is a natural thing. He added:

"We intend, not only to deepen and extend such cooperation to our mutual advantage, but to place it at the service of peace, of freedom and of social and human progress."

"These are the immutable foundations of the civilization that the United States and Italy have undertaken to defend."

Vice President Nixon told Gronchi that he is welcome anywhere in the United States, as a symbol of the first 10 years of democratic government in Italy.

Gronchi and Nixon rode from the airport to the District of Columbia Building, where Gronchi was presented the keys to the city, and then to the White House where President and Mrs. Eisenhower came out on the portico to greet him.

Gronchi will be in Washington four days. The State Department said he was here primarily for a state visit. Gronchi has said he is not in the United States to press for any direct grants-in-aid.

Radar Chain Planned

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (U)—A far-flung chain of radar "eyes" for lightning-fast tracking of America's newest supersonic rockets and missiles soon will be completed on a string of islands extending more than 2,000 miles from Florida's east coast through the West Indies, the builders said today.

Described as "the world's largest chain radar tracking system," the 21 installations on eight islands are being set up at a cost of about 10 million dollars.

Ike "Probably" Will Meet Press On Wednesday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (U)—President Eisenhower "in all probability" will hold a news conference on Wednesday.

That much information came from the White House today. There still remained the tantalizing question of whether Eisenhower will announce at this probable conference what he plans to do about running again.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said he did not know what hour the conference might be held. Customarily, Eisenhower meets the press for about half an hour, beginning at 10:30 a.m.

Stock Market Factor?

There has been some speculation he might hold up any announcement until after 3:30 p.m., when the New York Stock Exchange closes. Asked whether the stock market hours might affect the timing, Hagerty said:

"I have no comment whatsoever."

The stock market went down when the news broke last Sept. 24 that Eisenhower had had a heart attack. The market went up when his doctors reported on Feb. 14 that medically, he was good for another term.

Ike Wants To Avoid Shock

On Feb. 8, a reporter at Eisenhower's news conference led into a discussion of the market's reaction last September. The President said then he had tried to be cautious rather than optimistic about his health, so that if he ever had to say he didn't think he should try for another term "there would not be that kind of a shock—if it were possible to avoid it."

Hagerty told reporters today that he is not going to discuss the second term question in any way until the President himself speaks out on it.

Justice Literally Leans Backwards

BALTIMORE, Feb. 27 (U)—Justice literally leaned over backwards today in Circuit Court.

First the jury foreman leaned back and fell out of his chair. He was quickly rescued by other jurors.

Laughter had barely subsided after the judge asked if the case was "really overwhelming" when a member of the prosecution staff leaned too far aft and fell over, too.

Judge R. Dorsey Watkins joined in the laughter—then got up to check his own chair.

Assured his seat on the bench was a sound one, the judge proceeded with the trial of a body and fender wrecker accused of using police radio broadcasts to get tips on traffic accidents.

State Races Attract Many Late Entries

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 27 (P)—One of the longest presidential-year ballots in the memory of veteran observers shaped up tonight a few hours before the filing deadline for Maryland congressional and judicial candidates.

There was a flurry of new entries in races for nomination to the House of Representatives and circuit judgeships as the midnight cut-off approached, but the field of hopefuls in the Senate primaries held firm at five for each party.

There were no candidates in either the Republican or Democratic presidential primaries, but they may file as late as March 5. That is also the deadline for withdrawal of candidates from the state races.

Sen. Knowland of California has been reported about to enter the Republican presidential preference race in Maryland, and friends of Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee said he was considering getting into the Democratic one.

Among late filers today was Sydney R. Traub, controversial former chairman of the State Board of Movie Censors who was denied reappointment by Gov. McKeldin. He filed as a candidate for the Supreme Bench of Baltimore.

Others included: Walter G. Finch, Catonsville, and Charles A. Taggart, Ridgewood, both for the Democratic nomination in the 2nd Congressional District.

Victor A. Leisner, president of the Wheaton Chamber of Commerce, in the 6th Congressional Democratic primary.

Frank L. Anderson, Riverdale, for the Prince Georges County seat in the 7th Judicial Circuit Court.

Edwin A. Harlan, deputy Baltimore city solicitor, for the Supreme Bench of Baltimore.

Herbert Lockwood, Democrat, in the 7th Congressional District.

Candidates for judgeships are entered in both party primaries. James P. Brock, administrative assistant to the secretary of state, said the ballot was the longest in his 15 years of service. He said the judgeship races had attracted "at least twice as many" as the usual number.

Brock pointed out that a number of new judgeships have been created by the Legislature in recent years.

Eden Warns Russia, Says Talks Needed

LONDON, Feb. 27 (P)—Prime Minister Eden tonight warned Russia that hydrogen bomb warfare could obliterate both Communist and capitalist countries.

Eden described as "a fantastic illusion" suggestions made by Kremlin leaders before the recent Communist party Congress that use of the H-bomb would mean the end of capitalism but not of communism.

Winding up a foreign affairs debate in the House of Commons, Eden declared: "The Russian leaders' speeches proved many things, not the least that we have need to talk together."

Eden's statement was interpreted as a bid for down-to-earth talks on East-West differences when Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and party chief Nikita Khrushchev visit London in April.

Youth Denies He Told Authorities He Slew Student

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., Feb. 27 (P)—Edward V. Marcionette, 17-year-old accused slayer of a University of Maryland sophomore, denied tonight that he confessed the killing to police.

Marcionette took the stand as his trial in Prince Georges County Circuit Court went into the evening after a lengthy search for an acceptable jury panel.

The youth from Fairland, Md., is charged with the fatal stabbing last Nov. 11 of Richard E. Gibson, 20. Police testified that the stabbing occurred after Marcionette took Gibson's car and the victim pursued him in another, caught up with him and cornered Marcionette in a field near New Hampshire Ave. and University Lane in the Langley area.

They also testified that Marcionette confessed the crime after they caught him in a Washington hotel. The jury was excluded during this testimony, however, while the defense and prosecution argued over whether it should be admitted. There was no immediate ruling.

When Marcionette took the stand he denied telling police he had killed Gibson.

With hands folded, he declared in a quiet voice: "I never have said it, I never have said it."

School Evacuated As Fire Breaks Out

BALTIMORE, Feb. 27 (P)—Fire broke out today in the basement of Public School 118, a few blocks north of the business district, forcing the evacuation of more than 500 pupils.

The fire was discovered by a sixth grade pupil, Marvin Henderson, who had gone to the basement to check the school lunch milk supply.

Principal Clarence Gittings ordered the youngsters out of the building. All of the fire loss was confined to the basement, but there was some damage from water, smoke and broken windows on the first and second floors.

Senate Unit Approves Watkins To Be Judge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (P)—The judiciary committee of the U. S. Senate today approved the appointment of R. Dorsey Watkins to be U. S. District Judge in Maryland.

Sen. Butler (R-Md.) said the committee also approved Gerald F. Bracken for U. S. Marshal in Baltimore and that both appointments should come before the Senate in a few days.

Chaplain Bill Offered

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (P)—A bill introduced by Sen. Butler (R-Md.) would authorize President Eisenhower to appoint a chief of chaplains for the Air Force with consent of the Senate.

Pennsy Confirms Wreck Caused By Broken Axle

BALTIMORE, Feb. 27 (P)—The Pennsylvania Railroad today concluded its official inquiry into the accident at Severn, Md., between Baltimore and Washington, D. C., and confirmed that a broken axle was the cause.

The railroad had announced its findings informally last Saturday. Six died in the wreck and about 100 were hurt.

Railroad officials met today with representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Maryland Public Service Commission. The accident happened late Thursday.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (P)—The Transport Workers Union today hit a Pennsylvania Railroad probe of the derailment of its crack "Embassy" last Thursday as a "farical proceeding."

It sent a telegram to the Interstate Commerce Commission asking the ICC to "institute its own public investigation" of the accident in Maryland that took five lives and injured many passengers.

Wreckage Indicates Boat Split Open

LA PLATA, Md., Feb. 27 (P)—Part of the wreckage of a motorboat which carried five persons to their death Sunday was fished from the bottom of the Potomac River today off Cobb Island, Md.

Deputy Edward Cooksey of the Charles County sheriff's staff said it appeared the bottom of the 22-foot inboard craft had broken open. "It apparently was traveling at very high speed and in beating against the waves, the bottom came off," Cooksey said.

Three young women—an aunt and her two nieces—and two older men were drowned. Two other young women survived.

Garbage Collector Killed In Collision

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., Feb. 27 (P)—Willie Baffield, 54-year-old Havre de Grace garbage collector, was killed this morning in a collision near the Harford County side of the Susquehanna River Bridge.

Police said Baffield was riding the rear of a truck belonging to the Whyte Collection Agency when the truck was sideswiped by a tractor-trailer driven by John D. Tripodi, Baltimore.

Both vehicles were in the north-bound lane when the accident happened. Tripodi was released under bond on a manslaughter charge.

Psychologist-Author Dies Of Heart Ailment

BALTIMORE, Feb. 27 (P)—Dr. Robert M. Lindner, 41-year-old nationally known psychologist and author of "Rebel Without A Cause" on which a movie was based, died today of a heart condition.

He had been a patient at Johns Hopkins Hospital since Jan. 14. He served for 10 years as criminal psychologist for the State Board of Correction.

Grand Inquest Concludes Both Union, BTC "Guilty"

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 27 (P)—The Maryland House of Delegates refused tonight to vote Gov. McKeldin authority to seize and operate the strike-bound Baltimore Transit Co.

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 27 (P)—The $30,000 Grand Inquest of the Baltimore Transit Co. strike concluded today that both union and management "must be adjudged to have been guilty of irresponsibility."

The unprecedented inquiry by the Maryland House of Delegates took the view that "full, frank and fair negotiations undertaken and carried out in good faith" should bring a quick settlement of the 29-day-old strike.

If it doesn't, "then serious consideration shall have to be given to the enactment of remedial legislation."

The report was prepared by a special staff headed by Jerome Alper, Washington attorney, and was adopted by the House of Delegates at a secret session.

The secret meeting was called by Del. Robinson (D-Balto 4th), who told the delegates, he did not plan to ask for action on the report until they had time to study it.

But the delegates adopted it on the motion of Del. Cardin (D-Balto 5th), who introduced the resolution for the Grand Inquest.

The 83-page report, summarizing eight days of testimony running 1,708 transcribed sheets, contained no specific recommendations for the "remedial legislation."

In fact, on the one hand it cautioned that any action taken during a "period of crisis" might over-

Opponents felt ratification of the amendment which marked a step in the Negroes' rise from slavery would be "putting the senators on the spot," in the words of Sen. Friend (D-Garrett).

One of the sponsors of the resolution, Sen. Goodman (D-Balto 5th) was absent from the meeting.

Sen. Cole (R-Balto 4th), the principal sponsor, said adoption of his resolution would "be meaningful in expressing the public sentiment of Maryland."

Voting for a favorable report on the measure were Sens. Cole, Dempsey (D-Balto 3rd), DiDomenico (D-Balto 2nd), Downey (R-Washington) and Sen. Wheatley (D-Prince Georges). Dean (D-Queen Annes), Friend, Mattingly (D-St. Marys) and North (D-Talbot).

The Mayor and Council yesterday approved a "self liquidating" amendment to the corporation and the PHA has made surveys and given tentative approval. Permanent approval may be received soon.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan asked if the new project might get underway by spring.

Wilson replied if not in the spring, then late in the summer. He explained the process by which the application is approved and added that it was hoped to advertise for bids during the summer.

Wilson will also go before the Board of Allegany County Commissioners to ask their approval of the amendment to the cooperation agreement. Under the housing project setup, the city receives eight per cent of the rents and the county two per cent, he pointed out.

Keegan Issues Statement
Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan, who sponsored public housing legislation during a previous term in office, said he was pleased to vote for the resolution and recalled it was in 1949 that he introduced the resolution which established the Housing Authority.

No Liquidation In Sight
Such a move "is not in sight," Wilson said, adding that the Authority has "no knowledge of Congress ever liquidating public housing."

Speaking of the local program, Wilson said it has developed well and been one of the most successful in the country, financially and otherwise.

Area Resident Is Held For Manslaughter

A Grantsville man was ordered held for the action of the June grand jury in Fayette (Pa.) County following a coroner's inquest into the death of his wife and two daughters and injury to 16 others in a triple highway crash February 5, about 40 miles west of Cumberland on Route 40.

He is Herman Bittinger, 42, driver of a car in which his wife, Mrs. Elsie Jean Bittinger, 22, and two daughters, Lonna, 18-months, and Mary Louise, five years old, were fatally injured.

Another daughter, Wilma, two-months-old, is in "fair" condition at Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh, where she underwent brain surgery last week.

Pennsylvania State Trooper John Lapatosky told the coroner's jury that Bittinger informed him at Uniontown Hospital after the accident that "I must have fallen asleep. I didn't see any other cars." Bittinger also said that he had worked the night before the crash, the officer testified.

Robert E. Lee, Pittsburgh, a witness to the crash, told the jury Bittinger's car drove out of the traffic lane across the highway into the other machines. One of

Area Men Injured In Auto Accident

Three persons were injured, and two of them hospitalized, as the result of an automobile accident late Sunday on West Virginia State Route 42 near Elk Garden.

Admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, were Paul R. Nesslerodt, RD 1, Elk Garden, the driver of the car, who suffered a neck injury, and Eugene B. Turner, Elk Garden, who had several teeth knocked out and sustained a bruised jaw in the accident. Turner was released yesterday, hospital attaches said, adding that Nesslerodt's condition was considered "good."

West Virginia State Trooper Charles Oliver, who is investigating, said Nesslerodt apparently lost control of his vehicle and it ran off the highway and over-turned. Another passenger in the car, Ervin Thomas of Elk Garden, was treated at the Keyser hospital for a laceration on the top of his head.

The Battle of New Orleans, last engagement of the War of 1812, was fought 15 days after peace had been made.

Third Housing Unit Sought

The Mayor and Council yesterday approved a "self liquidating" amendment to the corporation agreement between the city and Housing Authority of Cumberland which provides for distribution of funds in event local projects are sold.

William L. Wilson, attorney for the Authority, said that to the authority's knowledge there is no plan to sell the projects and the action is merely a precaution which has been added to such corporation agreements since the local agreement was signed.

At the same time it was revealed plans are being pushed for an early start on a third project of 80 units, site of which is to be determined.

Explaining the amendment, Wilson said, in the original 1950 agreement there was no provision for self-liquidation but Congress provided for it in 1954.

The only time such self-liquidation or foreclosure would be used would be if Congress passes an act stating there will be no more public housing or support for the Public Housing Authority.

No Liquidation In Sight
Such a move "is not in sight," Wilson said, adding that the Authority has "no knowledge of Congress ever liquidating public housing."

Speaking of the local program, Wilson said it has developed well and been one of the most successful in the country, financially and otherwise.

The city has already approved the proposed 80-unit third project, and Wilson said the PHA has made surveys and given tentative approval. Permanent approval may be received soon.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan asked if the new project might get underway by spring.

Wilson replied if not in the spring, then late in the summer. He explained the process by which the application is approved and added that it was hoped to advertise for bids during the summer.

Wilson will also go before the Board of Allegany County Commissioners to ask their approval of the amendment to the cooperation agreement. Under the housing project setup, the city receives eight per cent of the rents and the county two per cent, he pointed out.

Keegan Issues Statement

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan, who sponsored public housing legislation during a previous term in office, said he was pleased to vote for the resolution and recalled it was in 1949 that he introduced the resolution which established the Housing Authority.

He said there was "considerable criticism" of the low-rent housing program at first from "some members of the public who felt this public housing was socialistic and also, it was argued, that public housing would depreciate other real estate values, particularly in the neighborhood where it was located, and that it would hurt landlords who were trying to rent properties."

"None of these fears have proved justified and, in fact, the public housing sites have increased the values in the vicinity where they are located and the only type leasehold property which it affected were the sub-marginal type of properties which would have been either repaired or made unavailable for leasing because of their poor condition."

"Public housing has provided clean and decent housing for people with smaller incomes and I am particularly pleased to see this new project go into an area where the homes which do exist are sub-marginal," Keegan said adding he was proud to have sponsored the legislation and will continue to support it.

Under the original agreement, ownership of Jane Frazier Village and Banneker Homes would pass over to the city in 40 years but since that time bond reductions have cut that period to 26 years, five of which have already passed, it was pointed out.

Child Fractures Arm

Glen Carder Jr., six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Carder, 356 Upper Bedford Street, was admitted Sunday to Sacred Heart Hospital for X-rays and observation of a fractured right arm suffered in a fall while playing.

Union Concerned Over Welfare Of Watchmen

Lodge 212, B&O Machinists, in a letter read to the Mayor and Council yesterday, said it agreed the automatic signal lights and gates at railroad crossings here would be effective, but it is still concerned over disposition of 19 watchmen who would be displaced.

The local said it had seen a brochure on proposed plans prepared by the B&O but in view of the 19 watchmen involved, urged council's utmost consideration to the welfare of these men in acting on the proposal.

Finance Commissioner John J. Long, who several weeks ago submitted a list of the men employed as watchmen and asked what the B&O could do about providing other jobs for them, queried Mayor Roy W. Eves about what had been done.

Eves replied the names had been given to T. J. Klauenberg, Cumberland Division superintendent. The mayor added he had not heard anything but "They are working on it."

Must Follow Rules

Later, Eves added that the B&O must act in accordance with rules laid down and agreed to by the union. This has to be worked out according to these rules, he said.

A number of routine matters came before council yesterday.

Approved was application of the Texas Company to install three, 3,000-gallon underground gas storage tanks for Harry E. Shobe, Virginia Avenue.

Checks were ordered issued to city employee for the last two weeks of the month on Thursday.

Purchase of a tract in Ridgeley from Jesse H. Simmons for flood control; two easements with Ralph L. Lindamood in connection with the water line to Pittsburgh Plate Glass company; and $25 payment to William E. Miller for cost of removal and relocation of electrical wiring at 640 North Mechanic Street in connection with work on the flood wall were approved.

Payment Authorized

Acting parking meter inspector Louis Downey reported collections the week of February 19 at $733.12 compared to $652.24 the week of February 12, an increase of $80.88.

The water level at Lake Gordon is four inches above the crest of the spillway and at Lake Koon two inches above, a report by C. L. Brotemarkle, assistant superintendent of Everts Creek Water Company, shows. For the week ending yesterday water consumption was 82,840,000 gallons or a daily average of 11,834,000. This compared to 87,820,000 gallons the same period a year ago.

Council authorized payment of $5,925 to Robert T. Register for advisory supervision and inspection of work on the sewage treatment plant.

Romney Poultry Grower Favors Hens In Cages

Principal advantages of keeping hens in individual cages are cited by J. D. Fowler, a Romney, W. Va., poultryman, in the first issue of a new publication, the Maryland Poultryman.

The Poultryman, which will be issued several times a year, is edited by Wade H. Rice, poultry specialist at the University of Maryland.

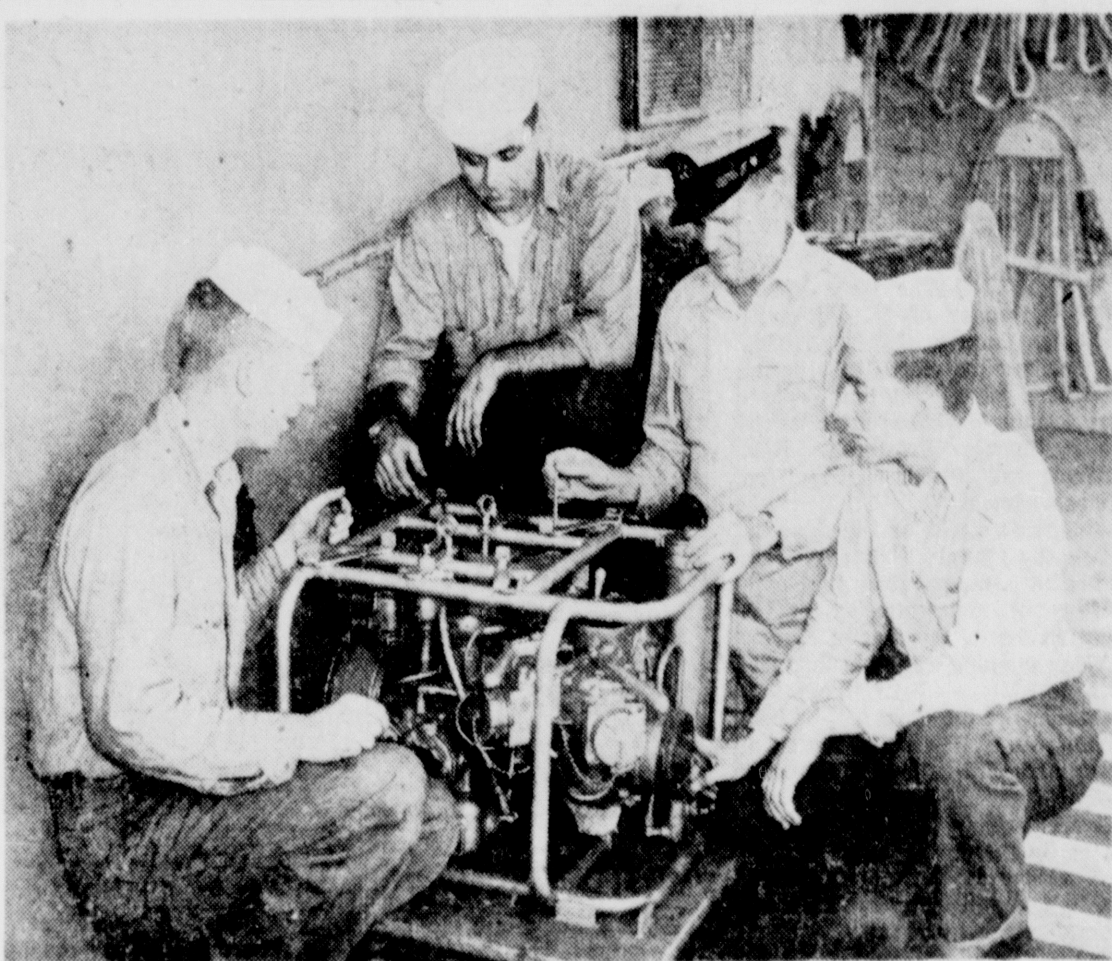

The so-called scientific hen house in which each chicken is kept in an individual cage so that her egg-laying record can be kept accurately was introduced in Allegany County by Dale Mann, who lives in the Piney Plains section of the eastern end of the county.

Fowler reports that he has 1,000 caged layers. The cages do not take the hard work out of producing eggs for a profit, he said. He did find that a good bird properly grown and managed right, both on the range and in the cages, could make money.

Now that the first 500 hens have reached the age of eight months, the entire hen house is averaging 65 per cent production for the month.

Fowler cites five reasons why he likes cages for his hens. They are:

1. Mortality is two to three per cent less than on floors.
2. Because the birds are off the floor no worms or diseases can be picked up.

3. The cost is cheaper to produce a dozen eggs.
4. Positive culling. If the bird does not produce 14 eggs in 28 days she is removed and replaced with a new bird. Soft shell egg layers can be found and also removed.
5. There is less breakage of eggs. Eggs are of better quality because they are clean and properly cooled.

Rec Staff Plans For Sled Riding

The City Recreation Department is preparing plans for supervised sled riding.

Robert E. Pence, director, said the department is repairing a number of smashed lanterns and ordering additional ones to provide about 50 lanterns.

At the same time, the recreation staff is contacting parents who will be willing to help supervise sled riding when snow comes.

Pence said the activity can be offered only in areas where it is wanted and where parents will give their time to supervise the sport.

Permit Granted

The Bowling Green Volunteer Fire Department has obtained a permit at the Court House to construct a $35,000 concrete block and brick fire hall which will be located along McMullen Highway opposite the Hamilton Esso Station.

Back in December the State Roads Commission purchased the department's present fire hall for $20,000. The SRC plans to construct a divided U. S. Route 220 from the Dingle Hill to the Celanese plant and the hall stood on the proposed northbound route.

Junior Broiler Projects To Start In Area March 23

The starting date for Maryland's Junior Broiler Production projects in Allegany and Garrett counties will be March 23, according to Joseph M. Steger, county agent.

Information has been received from Perry F. Twining, extension poultryman of the University of Maryland, that the starting date in Frederick, Washington, Howard, Carroll and Montgomery counties will be March 17.

Dates for other sections of the state have been released by Twining, who pointed out that a total of six regions will compete in the state.

Soap Carvings' Exhibit Shown At Library Here

Sixth grade youngsters at West Side School, under the direction of their teacher, Raymond Skidmore, have completed a number of soap carvings which are now on display at the Cumberland Free Public Library.

Co-chairmen of the project were Arvella Alt and Sally Avirett. Among the carvings are dogs with colored bows around their necks, fish, and other little figures.

Some of the carvings were painted adding to the attractiveness of the exhibit. The display yesterday was receiving quite a bit of attention from school children.

Judge Henderson III, Jury Trial Postponed

Due to the illness of Chief Judge George Henderson, a condemnation suit brought by the State Roads Commission against a Bedford Road couple, and scheduled to be heard yesterday before a jury in Circuit Court, has been postponed until the near future.

Defendants in the case are Frederick L. and Mamie L. Hurt, who reside on Bedford Road near its junction with Frederick Street. The SRC seeks the right to run an open water drain across .13 acres of the Hurt property and also permission to erect snow fences on their land for the period between October 1 and April 1. A check for $550 has been deposited with Clerk of Circuit Court Joseph E. Boden as the SRC's offer to the couple.

Wheaton Man Enters Race For Congress

WHEATON, Md., Feb. 27 (AP)—Victor A. Leisner, 32, Wheaton businessman, today formally entered the race for Democratic nomination for congressman from Maryland's 6th District.

He filed candidacy papers with the secretary of state at Annapolis.

Bigamy Hearing Set For Today

James Franklin McLuan, 35, Youngstown, Ohio, is scheduled for trial today in Allegany County Circuit Court on a bigamy charge.

After McLuan was brought back here from Cleveland, Ohio, to face trial, his attorney, Earl S. Manges, said his client was agreeable to waive indictment by the grand jury in order to have an immediate trial.

However, it was discovered that McLuan had been indicted by a previous grand jury last October. However, this was not placed on the open docket until last week. The Ohioan is accused of having married Janice Grandy Trenchard August 30, 1954, while still legally married to Barbara Anne Stutler McLuan.

Bridge Abutment Is Being Poured

The sub-base and footer for the north abutment of the new Market Street Bridge have been poured, according to Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz.

He said the sub-base was poured last Saturday and the footer on Tuesday, using over 70 yards of concrete. Still to be poured is the stem of the abutment.

Crews of H. D. Case, Inc., he said, can move to the south side of the creek when the stem of the abutment on North Mechanic Street is above the water line.

The contractor has kept the center pier of the bridge in place to expedite the channeling of the water away from the construction area.

Mineral County To Vote Friday On School Levy

KEYSER — Voters of Mineral County are urged by parents and teachers to turn out and vote next Friday, when the school levy will be up for endorsement. There are only two ways to vote, "for" or "against." This is the third such election that has been held over the past several years and the Mineral County schools have benefited.

A vote against the levy is against progress of the county school system, said County Superintendent S. T. McGee. If the levy is defeated by the voters, there will be much that the school now has, that will be taken away, and this will very likely include teacher salaries, as the county will be set back again to where it was six years ago. As long as the levy continues in effect, the schools will continue as they are, although much more is necessary to provide all that is needed.

Defeat of the levy will take from the schools, many benefits granted before. If the levy is endorsed by the voters next Friday, there will be some improvements in school properties including a small number of improvements in certain schools, but defeat will deny any work being done, excepting by taking funds from some sources, probably teacher pay, and using that for the physical necessities on buildings.

Teachers have been leaving this county for other places, leaving the county in a very deplorable position now, because they can earn much more money elsewhere than here.

Voters must realize their vote is not for expenditure of money for new things, but to save what the county already has, McGee said. A defeat of the levy will take what we have had in the past few years, preventing any improvements now needed, he added.

Government Secrecy Is Under Attack

The Senate has voted $100,000 for its subcommittee on Constitutional Rights to investigate the "increasing secrecy cloaking operations of the federal government." Chairman Thomas Hennings (D-Mo.) says secrecy within the executive branch "has been quite properly the subject of criticism by newspapers throughout the country."

And not only by newspapers. Committees of Congress complain of being denied full information on U. S. policies in the Middle East and on U. S. moves that worked to ease restrictions on free-world trade with the Soviet Bloc. Chairman James P. Richards (D-S.C.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee charges the State Department with treating the lower chamber like a "weak-minded illegitimate son."

A House subcommittee under Rep. John E. Moss Jr. (D-Calif.) for more than six months has been studying the information policies of government departments. Moss says this study has convinced him that the public is not getting all the facts to which it is entitled, nor all the facts it needs to evaluate government policies. This conviction apparently is shared by the Senate.

But how force government officials to give out information they wish to withhold? Moss believes there is "a clear need for new legislation," but to date has offered no suggestion on what it should prescribe.

Well, a start could be made by repealing laws that require certain government records and proceedings to be kept secret. More than half a hundred of these laws are now on the statute books. Although certain restrictions are undoubtedly needed to protect the national security, much information now withheld, by order of Congress itself, could unquestionably be released without endangering the public interest.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

They're Letting Me Out

Six weeks of being holed up in a little room, governed by three nurses, is not my idea of a holiday. Nevertheless it is the only complete holiday I have had so far as I can remember. Wherever I went, I carried my work with me and did it to avoid being bored by leisure. Some people have hobbies to keep them going, but everything was simultaneously work and hobby with me and I must say, I enjoyed living very much.

Now, it may be different. I do not need to run for a second term nor do I have any follies to satisfy except the one that I shall not permit doctors or nurses or family to turn me into a cabbage. I never played golf before, so I do not need to convince anyone of my prowess by playing golf or tennis or running a race. My principal exercise has been walking with my dog, Joe, and before Joe, with Brownie. I am told that I may walk with Joe, except in inclement weather, which Joe likes better than good weather.

Another joy was to work in the woods, cutting limbs and trimming trees. I did not raise that question. Perhaps that will be permitted on a modified scale. Everyday, I am to rest in the afternoon, which I have done most of my life and yet I find myself in this predicament. I shall be sorry not to smoke pipes and cigars—that will be a real loss.

I have received many letters from those who have had coronaries and various heart ailments giving me advice. Two men whom I respect highly, have never worked as hard as after they had their coronaries. They have taken on terrific activities, at the head of big businesses, and they are not in what might be called the pink of condition. Others write to "take it easy," which means actually to accept a licking.

It is going to make "heart attacks" of one kind or another better understood because of the dramatization of this illness in President Eisenhower. Watching his adventure with it daily, as the public does, will serve to take the fear out of it.

The truth of the matter is that if one is not killed by his heart troubles, he can go right on practically as before without such moderations as are perhaps inevitable with the passing of years. I was going to say, as comes with experience, but experience has become an offensive word in this ear when the greatest wisdom is the wisecrack and the greatest success goes to the smart aleck. However, that is what it amounts to.

One might have one bump all his life and no more; another might have several; and both kinds do go on living and working. It is the latter word that is important because only the very healthy man can live without work; the man who has had a coronary must do a daily stint to maintain his morale. If he does nothing, he is bound to become a cabbage.

Psychologically, the cardiac is in trouble if he does not watch himself, because he has to go to the doctor to be checked and each checking has a tendency to frighten. Of course, the person learns to take all that in his stride just as diabetics learn to check their blood sugar. If these checks are developed into big deals, it is no good at all. Some doctors are natural born ritualists and make a big deal out of everything they do, but the best kind to go to is one who slides over these checks as ordinary things, lets a nurse do them and keeps the bills within reason. High bills give the impression that the check involves something tremendous.

But this much is clear, the checking must go on and the person who has once had a coronary and does not check the state of his heart and other organs is not, from what I hear around here, very smart. On the other hand, no body can make any guarantees and the doctor who presumes to play God and guarantee so many years of life or activity is doing more than his science permits him to do. He simply does not know. The best he can do is to make an estimate which, as anyone who lives in the country knows, may be very far from the final bill.

So one can only turn to prayer which is not only a solace but a hope that it might be answered. At any rate, in that direction lies balance and sanity for the reasonable mind finds it easier to have faith in God than in any kind of an expert man who the wiser he is, knows more surely his limitations.

Come Now, This Will Never Do

U. S. Allies Helping To Arm, Industrialize Russia

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Sometimes the most sensational news is overlooked in the hurry of modern news gathering and maybe it's because the subjects themselves are not easily grasped.

Thus a $2,500 contribution to a campaign fund makes headlines because it is easily understood or is announced under dramatic circumstances. But one would think that the revelation of a scandal in which the allies of the United States obtain American money and then proceed to help to arm and industrialize Soviet Russia might also get full coverage in the press. But it received scant mention.

On Thursday of last week, Senator John L. McClellan, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on Permanent Investigations, made a sensational speech on the floor of the Senate which was recorded verbatim in The Congressional Record. He spoke of "the most astounding secret concessions" made by our government in a conference with its allies. He gave instance after instance of strategic materials released which will help the Soviet Union to build an armament machine that some day can be used to kill American soldiers and to devastate American cities.

Senator Richard Russell of Georgia, Democrat, chairman of the all-important Armed Services Committee of the Senate, rose afterward to characterize it "a most startling state of affairs." Three other members of the Armed Services Committee joined to deplore a scandal that shocked them. It was disclosed that Defense Department experts had protested in vain.

Senator McClellan reported to the Senate that his investigating committee had conducted hearings to try to find out how and to what extent the United States government had agreed to allow its allies to arm Soviet Russia. After reading the Arkansas senator's speech one wonders whether the American government in refusing to let Israel have arms or in letting tanks go to Saudi Arabia isn't straining at a gnat in the Middle East while swallowing a camel in Central Europe.

For Senator McClellan said that in August 1954 at a secret meeting of the United States and its allies 200 of the 450 items previously under embargo to the Soviet Union were released. The Soviets know what the items are because they are buying them, but to this day the executive branch of the government here refuses to disclose to Congress just what the items are that have been released though they have been published in technical periodicals abroad and in an official journal of the British government's Trade Bureau.

Here are four conspicuous examples of the 200 articles released to the Russians:

Used For Jet Engines

1. Boring mills essential to the manufacture of tanks, artillery, aircraft, and for atomic reactors used in submarines.

2. Vertical boring mills essential to the manufacture of jet engines.

3. Dynamic balance machines—used for balancing shafts on engines for jet airplanes and guided missiles.

4. External cylindrical grinding machines which a Defense Department expert testified are essential in making engine parts, guided missiles and radar.

"It was emphatically stated," says the Arkansas senator in describing the testimony of a Defense Department expert on machine tools, "that it would be better to permit shells, guns or guided missiles to be disassembled and sent to the Soviet Union, for they could be used against us only once while these machine tools will be used to make armaments of war which could be used against us many times."

Mr. McClellan said that the testimony showed, moreover, how metals and minerals—which were being stockpiled in the United States because they are essential

Baering Down On The News

Figure that any politician should be too honest to accept a $2,500 bribe. And too proud to admit he got an offer that small.

All I know about the gas business is I live alongside the Big Inch and was figuring on tapping it.

The gas people had a tougher time getting across my lawn than they did leap-frogging the Alleghenies. I wouldn't go for turning on the cook-stove with a guy reading the meter down in Texas.

But somehow or another they made it with a gimmick they called eminent domain.

If that includes small bribes of the realm it's at least a whispering point.

I'll listen to anything within reason. Or they can handle it without a reason.

Frankie Costello Soon Faces Trial That Could Lead To Deportation

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Attorney General Brownell is moving vigorously against an underworld figure regarding whom the Democrats for a long time pulled their punches—Frankie Costello.

On July 21, 1947, almost nine years ago, this column pointed out: "It's not generally known, but the kingpin of American gamblers, Frankie Costello, could be deported from the United States if anyone really wanted to get tough about it."

The column then proceeded to point out that "Costello did not tell the government, when he took the oath as a citizen, that he had previously served a term in jail for carrying a concealed weapon."

"Even more important, a new citizen of the United States takes an oath to uphold the laws and Constitution of the United States. Yet at the very time Costello was taking his solemn oath as an American citizen (1925) he was engaged in the largest scale violation of the Volstead Act and the 18th Amendment in the history of prohibition."

Following publication, personally talked to various members of the Justice Department urging action against Costello, but it was not until Senator Kefauver had focused the spotlight on him that Attorney General James McGranery finally moved.

Brownell is now moving with considerable vigor, and Alfred O'Hara, one of his bright young men, assistant U.S. attorney in New York, will go to trial against Costello some time in April on three counts, two of which were outlined in this column.

They are: 1, failing to give his record of arrests; 2, listing of an erroneous occupation when filing for citizenship; 3, failure to be loyal to the laws and Constitution of the United States.

Merry-Go-Round

Estes Kefauver's female supporters are deserting him. Fay Porter, of California, once a strong Kefauver gal, now tells him: "I love you, Estes, but I am for Adlai." Liz Snyder of California says the same. . . . Secretary of Defense Wilson was talking about the trouble he had bringing some new India cattle into this country. "They've got foot-in-mouth disease," he said. This was too much for Kay Halle, the Cleveland commentator. Noticing her giggles, Wilson good-naturedly observed: "I know why you down the table there are laughing. . . . Capital politicians claim there was something Freudian about Vice President Nixon's selection of his favorite poem—Walt Whitman's 'Captain, My Captain'." It was written following the assassination of Abraham Lincoln. . . . Dick Nixon may have been trying to get back at his old critic, Chief Justice Earl Warren, when he paid tribute to the anti-segregation decision of "a great Republican chief justice."

The remark certainly was not calculated to help Warren below the Mason-Dixon Line. However, it has boomeranged and hurt Dick on both sides in one of the restricted parts of Washington and signed a restricted covenant agreeing not to sell his house to Negroes, Semites, Armenians, Persians, or Syrians. . . . When Senator Eastman of Mississippi is asked whether he will withdraw his two daughters and son from the Sidwell Friends School as a result of their admitting Negro children, his only reply is: "No comment."

Washington Pipeline
The White House requested photographers covering the recent Heart Fund luncheon at the Mayflower not to take pictures of Mrs. Eisenhower with famed comedian Victor Borge, because it might give him publicity. As long as the comedian was within camera range of Mamie, the orders were "no shots." Photographers obeyed the orders. The incident was important only because it shows how one part of the press definitely kow-tows to the White House. Borge needs publicity like a hole in the head. He played to standing room only in Washington. . . . Mrs. Eisenhower is opening the annual drive to aid victims of nephrosis. This is a crippling kidney disease that ravages children and costs their parents as much as $10,000 in medical and doctors' bills.

Adlai And Harry
It looks like the breach between Adlai Stevenson and Harry Truman is widening. Stevenson forces appear to be frowning on Harry Truman as keynote speaker at the Chicago convention.

On February 7, Jiggs Donohue, campaign manager for Senator Kefauver, wrote a letter to Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler, urging Truman as the keynote speaker. Donohue pointed out that Truman was for no one candidate, was a strong advocate of party harmony, and would be the ideal speaker.

Two weeks passed. No reply. Came February 20, Donohue wrote Butler a second letter asking for a reply. This time he enclosed a carbon copy to Truman.

Finally, on February 23, Butler replied: "We have not gotten to the point in our plans and preparations for the convention where we are ready to select the keynote speaker. However, I can assure you that your suggestion will be carefully considered by the committee called upon to make recommendations to the full national committee."

Naturally, a copy of this brush-off was immediately sent to Harry Truman. Since Butler was hand-picked by Adlai Stevenson to be Democratic chairman, and since Governor Harriman, the other leading Democratic candidate, also had proposed Truman as keynote speaker, Harry isn't likely to be happy about Adlai.

Coue And Dulles

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

In his appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has now elevated the practice of Coueism to the status of a major technique of American foreign policy.

For those whose memories do not go back so far, Dr. Coue was an amiable, bearded pseudo-physician who brought a new panacea out of France in the 1920s. By taking thought, said Coue you could cure yourself of anything from a hernia to the blind staggers. All you had to do was to repeat often enough, with enough loud conviction, that "every day, in every way, everything is getting better and better."

The fad caught on for a while; but after a bit it was observed that the blind staggers went on staggering and the hernia sufferers could not do without their trusses. Now, however, the Coue cure-all has been resurrected from obscurity, with the august endorsement of the secretary of state of the United States.

Unsupported By Data

What Secretary Dulles told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in brief, was that the Soviet Union was now losing the cold war. "One thing is certain," he declared with exalted conviction, "The unity of the free world has caused the Soviet policy to fail, and right today they are trying to figure out a better one. . . . At this moment in Moscow, they are having to revise their whole program. If we in this country had to admit that, we would be advertised all over the world as having failed. They have failed."

These statements are truly remarkable for several rather simple reasons, they are wholly unsupported by a shred of intelligence data. They are not believed by any of Secretary Dulles' own ambassadors. They are not believed, either, by any member of the higher staff of the State Department, with the possible exception of one or two courtiers who have a knack of believing what is currently expedient. And they are not believed, finally, by any leader among our major allies.

Except for John Foster Dulles, expert opinion unanimously attributes the important changes in the Kremlin's policy line to a new self-confidence, derived from the great improvements in Soviet military posture and gains in heavy industry which Dulles himself mentioned to the senators.

Used To Hold This View

Before he became a minority of one, even Secretary Dulles used to hold this same view. In earlier briefings of the press, Dulles himself has frankly stated that the Kremlin's abandonment of the rigid and brutal Stalinist line in favor of a more flexible and less doctrinaire policy had greatly increased the dangers and risks of the free world. It would be interesting, then, to know what has changed the secretary's mind.

Certainly the hard facts of the world situation do not offer any support to the new Dulles view that "every day, in every way, everything is getting better and better." Throughout almost all of Asia, the Communists are making such rapid and disturbing progress that two warm Eisenhower supporters and extremely acute observers, John Cowles and Paul Hoffman, have just returned from Asian journeys to raise the alarm in this country.

In the Middle East, the outlook is so dark that leading members of Secretary Dulles' own staff have been quoting the odds on an Arab-Israeli war as about fifty-fifty either way. Even if the war danger is surmounted this year, moreover, it is universally admitted that the new Communist political offensive in the Middle East has already scored brilliant successes. It is also becoming clear that Communist infiltration in certain of the Arab states is now very far advanced.

Even in the citadel of the Western alliance, in Western Europe, the situation shows signs of grave deterioration. France is in chaos, and will hardly emerge from chaos without the loss of the position in North Africa that makes France a major power. Britain, too, is in the midst of an acute economic crisis. Moreover, Far Eastern and Middle Eastern revenues are all that balance Britain's books, and thus the Communist pressure in those areas now threatens Britain with irretrievable bankruptcy of a sort that would destroy Britain's great power standing.

Based On Adenauer

Even in West Germany, American policy rests solely on the frail foundation of a wonderfully brave but very old and very ill man, Chancellor Adenauer. The future German army is not shaping well. And almost every American observer on the spot agrees that if anything happens to Adenauer, Germany will move rather rapidly towards a neutralist position, probably leaving NATO to buy German re-unification.

Altogether, it is not a pretty picture. But perhaps the Coue method really will work in foreign policy, although it was a dud in medicine.

Piedmont League Will Not Operate

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 27 — Minor league baseball's Piedmont League will disband effective today, George Trautman, president of the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues announced.

Trautman said operators in the league had a poor season financially in 1955 and feared a repetition of poor attendance this year.

The league had teams in Hagerstown, Md., Lancaster, Pa., Lynchburg, Va., Newport News, Va., Portsmouth, Va., Sunbury, Pa., and York, Pa. Norfolk, Va., dropped out in mid-season last year.

Meanwhile, at York, A. S. Feldman, president of the York Community Baseball Club, said the organization "will not fold up."

"We (York club) intend to keep functioning as a corporation and just bide our time and see what will happen," Feldman said.

At Sunbury, Basse A. Beck, president of the Sunbury Baseball Assn., said he will call a meeting course of action.

Maury McDermott, Don Larsen Sign Yankee Contracts

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 27 — Pitchers Maury McDermott and Don Larsen signed New York Yankee contracts today just in time for the opening session for pitchers and catchers.

Four pitchers, Whitey Ford, Bob Grim, Jim Konstanty and Tom Morgan, have not yet signed and they became official holdouts. Two other players, infielder Billy Martin and outfielder Irv Noren, haven't signed their contracts, either, but have until March 1 to sign and report.

Maryland Racing Revenue May Aid School Construction

Plan May Fill State Coffers By $2,885,000

Milers Would Get 120 Racing Days; Betting Tax Hike 2 Per Cent

By CHARLES PUFFENBARGER
ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 27 (AP)—A joint subcommittee recommended today that the season at Maryland's mile horse racing tracks be increased and that the additional revenues be used for school construction aid.

It favored this plan rather than one to use the new revenues for holding down the scheduled hike in the real estate tax. But legislators felt the property tax increase could still be held down by at least half a cent with part of the new money.

Under the plan, the mile track racing season would be increased from 100 days to 120, 40 each at Pimlico, Bowie and Laurel.

Previously the Senate Finance Committee had voted to cut the scheduled property tax rate of 14.07 by some 2 cents with the additional revenues.

$5 More Per Pupil

The new plan would distribute to the 23 counties and Baltimore City $5 more per pupil this year for school construction. This is half the amount scheduled to go to the subdivisions under a bill recently enacted, but not scheduled to go into effect for another year.

Under present formulas, the State gives each subdivision $10 per pupil for school construction, less the amount collected from a local tax of 5 cents on each $100 of assessed property. The recently enacted bill would up the formula to $20 per pupil. The proposed new plan would make it $15 immediately.

Would Hike Betting Tax
The racing season increase would be 12 more days than originally recommended by Gov. McKeldin. The plan also includes the governor's proposal for hiking the betting pool tax by 2 per cent, half of which would go to the state and half to the tracks.

The new plan came out of a joint subcommittee of the Senate Finance and the House Ways and Means committees. It was reported informally to the Finance Committee, with details to be worked out later.

It apparently wiped out any opposition from legislators who had wanted to give the subdivisions half the new revenues under the State's present policy of turning State tax money back to the local governments for their use.

Senators Satisfied
Sens. Nock (D-Wicomico), Jewell (D-Kent) and Northrop (D-Montgomery), who had opposed the State keeping all the increase, said they were satisfied if the counties got the money for school construction.

Actually the subdivisions will get more of the new revenue under the plan than if it had been split up on the 50-50 basis. That would have sent some $1,845,000 back to the subdivisions. Under the school aid plan they will split up some 2 1/2 million.

This would leave some $300,000 for holding down the property tax, which is determined by the State debt.

Another proposal under consideration is the extension of the period for paying off the school teachers' retirement fund debt in 20 years rather than five. This would mean the debt this year would be about $300,000 rather than $1,100,000, giving the legislators some $800,000 more with which to hold down the property tax.

Would Net $2,885,000

Actually the State coffers will be filled with some $2,885,000 by the new racing plan—including the additional days, the increased tax and by moving up the effective date to make the plan effective immediately.

Sen. Turnbull (D-Balto County) said the subcommittee voted unanimously on the new plan in a closed door meeting.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Hold That Throat Line

For some reason, many beauty seekers seem to have faith in some tricky procedures that won't work, but must be convinced about other sound methods that do. I can't tell you how many times I've been asked if there's any hope at all of improving a sagging chin or a crepy throat. Of course there is. It's a matter of exercise for this small and delicate area, just as it is for larger parts of the body. There's no way to wave a wand and make these troubles disappear, but as always, nature is more than willing to help if you know how to enlist its cooperation. Nature works right along with you to firm a throat and chin if you work at these routines for at least ten minutes every day:

1. Slowly rotate your head, first to the right and then to the left, letting it fall as far as possible in all directions.
2. While chewing hard, throw your head back and hold it for a count of ten. Repeat, but this time direct your chin to the far right and then to the far left.
3. With the chin well up, say "ave" with a wide grin, and "oh" with pursed lips.
4. In addition to following the exercises, establish these habits: As a day-long workout, keep your chin parallel to the floor. Look down with your eyes—don't drop your chin. 5. As a passive measure, mold your jaw between your thumb and forefinger and stroke your throat upward with your palms when giving your face its daily care.

And then there's one bit of advice that's more important than anything else to holding or bringing back a young throat line: Always carry your head high!

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends, neighbors and relatives for the kindness and sympathy shown during our recent bereavement. The loss of our beloved wife and mother, Agnes A. Kiddy, especially wish to thank Rev. C. H. Goshorn, The Senior Choir, those who sent cards, flowers, donated the use of their cars, and all others who in any way tended to lessen our sorrow.

Home Returned To Area Woman In Court Ruling

Chief Judge George Henderson has decided an equity case in Circuit Court in favor of a 64-year-old Westernport woman in connection with a dispute over a deed to property in Green's Addition of that community.

The suit was brought by Mrs. Etta Amelia Starkey against her son, William D. Starkey, and Rose F. Starkey, his wife, who reside at Bloomington.

The petition, filed by Horace P. Whitworth Jr., attorney for the woman, states Mrs. Etta A. Starkey resides alone in the property and home, and that her only means of support comes from keeping boarders.

It was claimed that on September 12, 1953, the son had a deed prepared by their attorney which conveyed the property known as Lots 28 and 29 in Section A of Greene's Addition, together with the improvements thereon, to the couple.

Whitworth claimed that the elderly woman is suffering from physical disabilities and, as a result, her mind had become impaired and she was wholly incapable of making a valid deed or contract. He also claims that nothing was paid to

House Passes Md. Teachers Pay Increase

Delegates Defeat Sales Tax Raise

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 27 (AP) — The House of Delegates voted overwhelmingly tonight to give Maryland schoolteachers a pay raise but beat down attempts to pay for it by increasing the sales tax.

The bill, calling for $400 across the board increases in minimum salaries cleared the House 111-8 and now goes to the Senate for action.

Its companion measure to increase the sales tax from 2 to 3 cents failed by seven votes, 55-64.

The two bills were debated for an hour and a half before being disposed of, and one delegate complained of lobbyist pressures and "threats" in refusing to vote at all on the pay bill.

Del. Hatem (D-Harford) said he was told before going into the chamber that "if I didn't vote for this bill I'd better take a slow boat to China."

"Well, I'm not going to vote and I'm not going to take that boat," he said angrily to some spectator in the gallery.

"I'm not going to sell my soul for a mess of porridge... I don't want to be placed in a position of voting on a bill because I was threatened into voting for it."

Del. George Hughes (R-Allegany), minority floor leader who also spoke against the pay increase, said, "This has turned into a government by stampede instead of government by responsibility."

Not Necessary

He said he had not been convinced in hearings of the House Ways and Means Committee that the bill was necessary. He said the head of the state department of education hadn't asked for it.

The bill has been lobbied by representatives of the Maryland State Teachers Assn., and these efforts have been blasted by Gov. McKeldin in a statement on the subject. Many legislators believe from his remarks at that time he will veto the bill if the Senate passes it.

The sales tax bill was dead as soon as the lights flashed on the electric tote board in the House of Delegates chamber. As packed galleries in both houses watched, it was brought up ahead of the pay bill itself.

Del. Boone (D-Balto County), majority floor leader and chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee which authored it, got up to urge its passage with the vote standing 50-44 against it. Sixty-two votes were necessary for passage.

He tried unsuccessfully to convince delegates that if they want to raise teacher's pay, they ought to face up to the responsibility of providing means for financing it. "Look deep into your consciences," Boone said.

Attack Measure

Delegate by delegate then got up to attack the measure as unnecessary and to say it was up to the governor to provide any financing necessary.

Some said the way State surpluses are piling up, the sales tax boost might not even be necessary next year when the bill would become effective.

One recalled that lawmakers were told last year the State would be facing a 25 to 30 million dollar deficit this year and is actually winding up with a 19 million dollar surplus.

Gov. McKeldin's $308,818,451 budget moved a step closer to final enactment before the teacher and sales tax bills came up. It cleared easily its first step in the House and was set up for passage later tonight or tomorrow.

Md. Wind Loss Tops $1 Million

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP) — The weekend winds which swept across Maryland caused more than one million dollars in insurance losses, the National Board of Fire Underwriters estimated today.

Additional adjustments for the capital stock fire insurance business are being sent into the affected areas, the board said.

The board said property owners should make necessary temporary repairs to prevent further damage and report their losses promptly to their insurance agents.

Most of the wind damage was caused by gusts as high as 72 miles an hour which struck many sections of the State Saturday. The gusts were part of a two-hour wind storm which moved eastward across the State.

Winds were strong throughout the weekend. Most heavily damaged sections were the Cumberland, Md., and Baltimore areas.

They're Working On The Levees

Crews of the E. J. Albrecht Company, Chicago, are working on one of the levees being built in Ridgeley by the Corps of Engineers in connection with the $18,000,000 Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection program. Work on the project has been slowed by recent rains, which have halted excavation work in Wills Creek for over three weeks.

Retail Clerks Win Increases In A & P Pact

Two Year Contract Covers Eight Stores

A new agreement providing a $4 a week wage increase and other benefits for employees of eight A&P stores in this area has been negotiated between Retail Clerks Local Union No. 886 and the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company.

William R. Hartman, union president and business agent, said the contract becomes effective today and runs for two years, with a wage opening clause after one year.

The pact covers over 200 workers in the two A & P Super Markets in Cumberland and stores in Frostburg, Loaconing and Westport, Md., and Keyser, Romney and Petersburg, W. Va.

Part-time workers in the stores will receive an increase of 10 cents an hour.

A number of new provisions have been included in the contract, Hartman said. They include:

Premium pay of 10 cents an hour for employees working nights after closing time until opening time.

Part-time employees who accumulate 2,000 hours of work will receive seniority credit for one year of full-time employment for each 2,000 hours worked, in the event they get full-time employment.

The new pact also includes company paid hospitalization insurance for all full-time employees and their dependents.

The work consists of 40 hours to be worked in five days.

The company will also provide an improved sickness plan for all full-time employees, ranging from one full week's pay and two half weeks to seven full and nine half weeks, according to service with the company.

The checkoff of union dues is included for the first time.

The union said full time starting wages are now $52.50 and range to a maximum of $66.50 after three years. Part time rates start at $1.23 and range up to $1.28.

The negotiating committee included Hartman, Donald Bucy, Edwin Hartman, William Byers, Andrew Smith and William Folk for the union, and J. A. Cowie, Merle McCandless and William Sweeney, for the company.

Slate Is Filed For Convention

A slate of seven prominent Allegany County Democrats was filed late last night shortly before the midnight deadline with the County Board of Election Supervisors to serve as delegates to the State Democratic Convention.

Unopposed, they automatically will represent the county in the state convention, where they will be required to cast the county's seven votes in the U. S. Senate race, the way the majority of county Democrats vote May 7.

They also will have a hand in instructing the Maryland delegation to the National Democratic Convention.

The slate filed by Thomas B. Finan, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, includes Robert E. Barnard Jr., Thomas F. Conlon Jr., William V. Keegan, Julius E. Schindler, Leslie J. Clark, William L. Wilson and Edward J. Ryan.

No Republicans filed. As a consequence the GOP State Central Committee will select a slate of convention delegates.

Flood Protection Levees, Walls Engineered To Last

By C. W. BLACKBURN
News Staff Writer

The levees which are being built along the Potomac River in connection with the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection project look like simple banks of earth.

They are not. They are precisely engineered structures which incorporate principles evolved through centuries of experience in many countries which are subject to devastating floods.

The basic levees which are being constructed here are earth structures which stand about 15 feet high and are about 100 feet wide at the base.

Begins With Trench

The levee begins with an inspection trench, dug down to suitable material or to water level for an average depth of about six feet.

This sloping trench is then filled and tamped with selected impervious materials. It serves a dual purpose of a foundation for the core of the levee and a barrier to the seepage of water beneath the levee.

Extending from the filled in inspection trench to the top of the levee is a 10-foot wide core of impervious material. Random fill is tamped on both sides of this impervious core.

The basic shape of the levee used here is determined by a "three on one" formula — three foot of slope for each foot of rise.

450 Pounds Of Pressure

Materials are spread on the levee in one-foot layers and then tamped with "sheep foot" rollers which apply some 450 pounds of pressure for each square inch of surface on each of the feet.

The rollers must make at least four passes over each layer of earth.

Officials of the Corps of Engineers make regular compaction tests to make sure that the maximum degree of compaction has been reached.

Moisture content is a major factor in the compaction, so the work must be halted when the ground is frosted or too wet. The fill is sprinkled when it is too dry to reach maximum compaction.

Foot by foot, the levee is laid and tamped until it is within four or five inches of the correct height.

Then topsoil is added so the surface can be seeded with a grass mixture suitable for this area.

Variations are made, however, when land costs or heavy currents make some other form expedient.

Stone Paving Used

When the angle is sharper than "three on one" or when currents might erode the levee, stone paving called "rip rap" is used on the stream side of the levee.

Plans for the $18,000,000 project call for the construction of some 10,000 feet of levee along the banks of the Potomac River.

A properly constructed and maintained levee will last from now on, but it has one weak point—it erodes rapidly if water begins to pour over the top.

Since plans prepared by the Corps of Engineers provide protection from a flood 25 per cent greater than that experienced in 1936, no difficulty should be experienced from that point.

Concrete Wall

At two points on the Potomac River, the Corps of Engineers is using concrete flood wall in place of levees.

The wall, including some 800 feet in West Cumberland and about 600 feet under construction in Ridgeley, is being used in locations where the saving in land costs make it expedient to use the more expensive type of construction.

A third type of flood protection is being used on Wills Creek.

When the project is completed, the Corps of Engineers will have paved some 8,200 feet of the slopes of the creek in a swift water plan.

Vertical concrete walls will be used along the sides of the creek from near the Queen City Brewing Company plant to the mouth of Wills Creek.

Expressway Light Plan Discussed

Decisions Awaiting Design Of Structure

A meeting was held in City Hall yesterday afternoon to discuss the lighting of the Crosstown Expressway.

William J. Edwards, commissioner of water and electric light, who presided, said no decisions were made at the exploratory meeting.

Definite plans for lighting, he added, cannot be made until the design of the big project is approved.

Attending the session were W. A. Cowan and S. L. Lemmons, of Green Associates, who are designing the major part of the expressway for the Maryland State Roads Commission; L. C. Cessna and Oscar H. Lashley Jr., of the Potomac Edison Company; C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, and James Alfred Avirett.

Edwards said there are two possibilities for the installation of the lights on the project, to have the Potomac Edison Company install the lights and be reimbursed by the city, or to lump installation and service together and pay an annual fee per light, as is done on other street lighting here.

He said PE spokesmen said no definite decision can be made on the lighting plans until it is determined whether the crossstown viaduct section is to be two 24-foot lanes or two 36 foot lanes.

He said the consensus was that mercury vapor lamps would be preferable on the structure, adding he believes it would be foolish not to use the most modern and efficient type.

Lights on the bridge portion, he said, would be set on metal standards, fixed upon bases installed when the bridge is built. On approaches, lights would be set on wooden poles, as in residential areas.

Boy Touches High Tension Wire, Burned

Stewart Broadwater In "Poor Condition"

A 15-year-old Jennings youth was severely burned about the hands, arms, legs and head Sunday when a light wire he was playing with came into contact with a high tension line.

Admitted to Meyersdale, Pa., Community Hospital in "very poor condition" was Stewart Broadwater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Broadwater of Jennings. Attaches said last night the boy was still unconscious from the shock and burns received in the mishap.

Playing In Yard Trooper Glen Folk, Maryland State Police, who investigated the accident said the victim was playing about 1 p. m. in the back yard of his home with a younger sister. He had taken a bead wire from an old automobile tire and was tossing it into the air when the light strand of wire touched a 7,200-volt high tension line which crossed over the yard about 100 feet to the rear of the Broadwater house.

The severe lolt the youth received while holding onto the wire strand knocked him to the ground unconscious.

His sister screamed for help and neighbors immediately rushed the boy by auto to Grantsville where he was transferred to an ambulance and taken to the Meyersdale hospital.

Trooper Folk, notified of the accident, called ahead to the hospital to make arrangements for his admittance immediately.

Folk said last night he and the father returned to the scene of the accident and, using a long wooden pole, knocked the wire strand loose from the high tension line where it had fused and was dangling about three feet from the ground.

The state trooper said young Broadwater was wearing arctic rubber boots at the time the mishap occurred and this probably was instrumental in keeping him from being killed instantly by the jolt of electricity which was not completely grounded.

Folk added he was not certain how the boy threw the light wire over the high tension line which was 30 feet above the ground.

Hospital attaches said the boy had severe burns of the left hand and arm, left leg and the back of the head.

The program, open to the public, will begin at 2 p. m. at which time 37 former members who died during the past year will be honored as well as 16 men who paid the supreme sacrifice during World War II.

C. William H. Baer, chairman, and Herman J. Miller, co-chairman of the Memorial Committee, announced last night that invocation will be given by Rev. Raymond A. Faulds Jr., pastor of Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Rabbi Daniel Lowry, of B'nei Chayim Temple, will say the prayer for the deceased members and Rev. Robert F. Hopkins, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, will give the benediction.

A program of music will be sung by members of the Allegany High School Choir under the direction of Miss Dorothy Willison.

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 27 (AP) — The House of Delegates voted overwhelmingly tonight to give Maryland schoolteachers a pay raise but beat down attempts to pay for it by increasing the sales tax.

The bill, calling for $400 across the board increases in minimum salaries cleared the House 111-8 and now goes to the Senate for action.

Its companion measure to increase the sales tax from 2 to 3 cents failed by seven votes, 55-64.

The two bills were debated for an hour and a half before being disposed of, and one delegate complained of lobbyist pressures and "threats" in refusing to vote at all on the pay bill.

Del. Hatem (D-Harford) said he was told before going into the chamber that "if I didn't vote for this bill I'd better take a slow boat to China."

"Well, I'm not going to vote and I'm not going to take that boat," he said angrily to some spectator in the gallery.

"I'm not going to sell my soul for a mess of porridge... I don't want to be placed in a position of voting on a bill because I was threatened into voting for it."

Del. George Hughes (R-Allegany), minority floor leader who also spoke against the pay increase, said, "This has turned into a government by stampede instead of government by responsibility."

Not Necessary

He said he had not been convinced in hearings of the House Ways and Means Committee that the bill was necessary. He said the head of the state department of education hadn't asked for it.

The bill has been lobbied by representatives of the Maryland State Teachers Assn., and these efforts have been blasted by Gov. McKeldin in a statement on the subject. Many legislators believe from his remarks at that time he will veto the bill if the Senate passes it.

The sales tax bill was dead as soon as the lights flashed on the electric tote board in the House of Delegates chamber. As packed galleries in both houses watched, it was brought up ahead of the pay bill itself.

Del. Boone (D-Balto. County), majority floor leader and chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee which authored it, got up to urge its passage with the vote standing 50-44 against it. Sixty-two votes were necessary for passage.

He tried unsuccessfully to convince delegates that if they want to raise teacher's pay, they ought to face up to the responsibility of providing means for financing it. "Look deep into your consciences," Boone said.

Attack Measure

Delegate by delegate then got up to attack the measure as unnecessary and to say it was up to the governor to provide any financing necessary.

Some said the way State surpluses are piling up, the sales tax boost might not even be necessary next year when the bill would become effective.

One recalled that lawmakers were told last year the State would be facing a 25 to 30 million dollar deficit this year and is actually winding up with a 19 million dollar surplus.

Gov. McKeldin's $308,818.451 budget moved a step closer to final enactment before the teacher and sales tax bills came up. It cleared easily its first step in the House and was set up for passage later tonight or tomorrow.

Md. Wind Loss Tops $1 Million

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP) — The weekend winds which swept across Maryland caused more than one million dollars in insurance losses, the National Board of Fire Underwriters estimated today.

Additional adjustments for the capital stock fire insurance business are being sent into the affected areas, the board said.

The board said property owners should make necessary temporary repairs to prevent further damage and report their losses promptly to their insurance agents.

Most of the wind damage was caused by gusts as high as 72 miles an hour which struck many sections of the State Saturday. The gusts were part of a two-hour wind storm which moved eastward across the State.

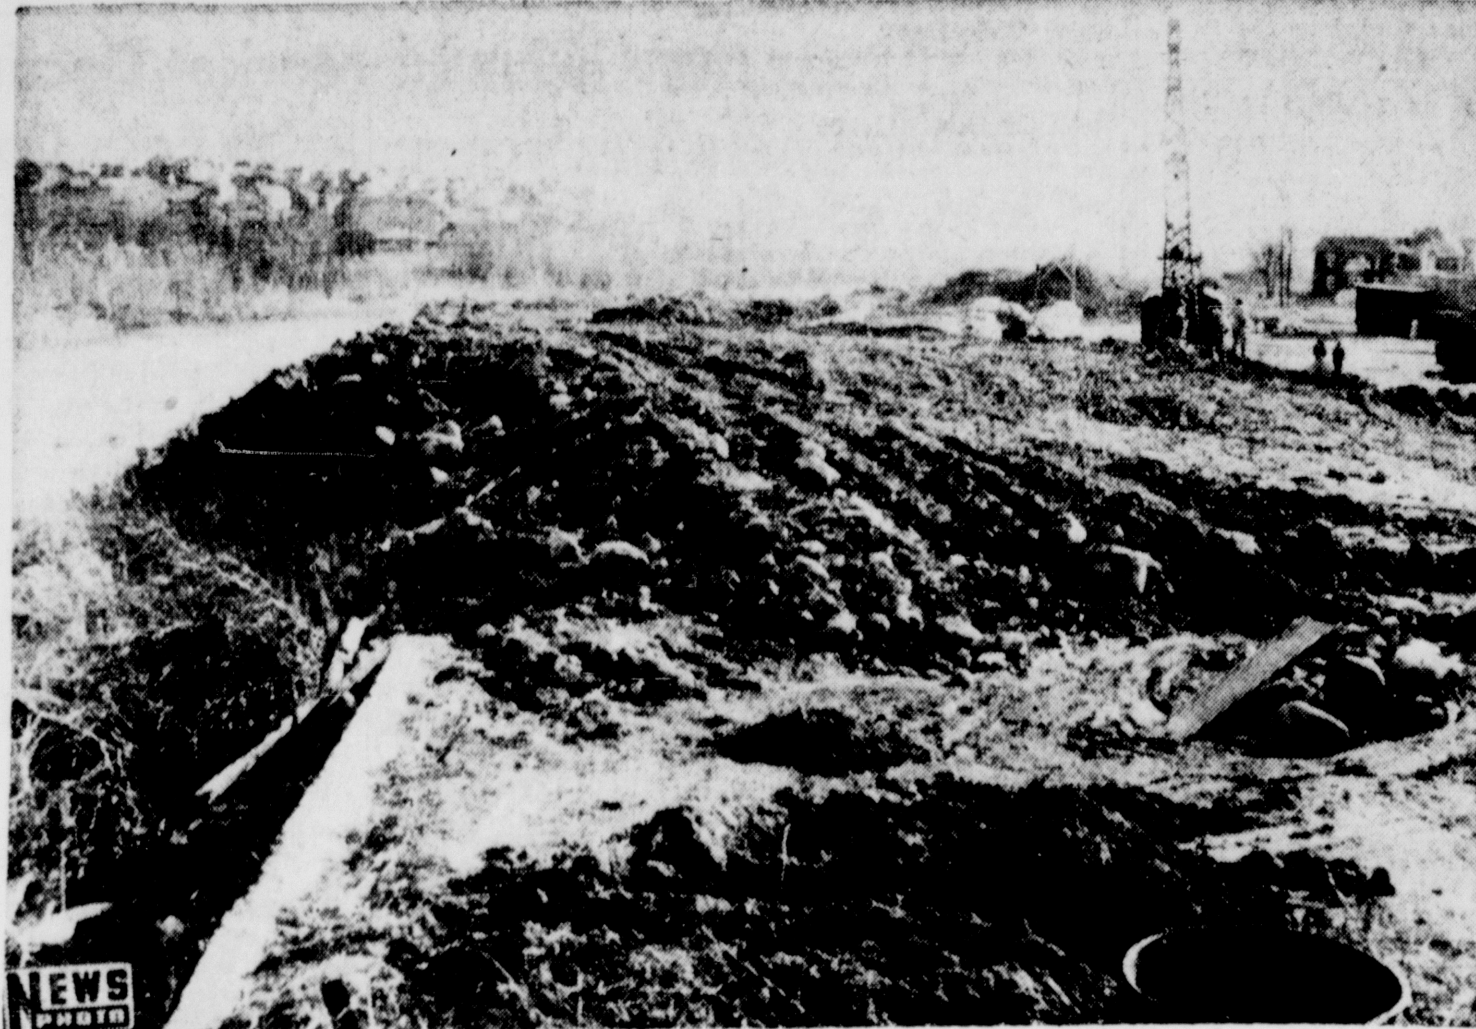

Winds were strong throughout the weekend. Most heavily damaged sections were the Cumberland, Md., and Baltimore areas.

They're Working On The Levees

Crews of the E. J. Albrecht Company, Chicago, are working on one of the levees being built in Ridgeley by the Corps of Engineers in connection with the $18,000,000 Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection program. Work on the project has been slowed by recent rains, which have halted excavation work in Wills Creek for over three weeks.

Retail Clerks Win Increases In A & P Pact

Two Year Contract Covers Eight Stores

A new agreement providing a $4 a week wage increase and other benefits for employees of eight A&P stores in this area has been negotiated between Retail Clerks Local Union No. 886 and the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company.

William R. Hartman, union president and business agent, said the contract becomes effective today and runs for two years, with a wage opening clause after one year.

The pact covers over 200 workers in the two A & P Super Markets in Cumberland and stores in Frostburg, Lonaconing and Westport, Md., and Keyser, Romney and Petersburg, W. Va.

Part-time workers in the stores will receive an increase of 10 cents an hour.

A number of new provisions have been included in the contract, Hartman said. They include:

Premium pay of 10 cents an hour for employees working nights after closing time until opening time.

Part-time employees who accumulate 2,000 hours of work will receive seniority credit for one year of full-time employment for one year of full-time employment.

The new pact also includes company paid hospitalization insurance for all full-time employees and their dependents.

The work consists of 40 hours to be worked in five days.

The company will also provide an improved sickness plan for all full-time employees, ranging from one full week's pay and two half weeks to seven full and nine half weeks, according to service with the company.

The checkoff of union dues is included for the first time.

The union said full time starting wages are now $52.50 and range to a maximum of $66.50 after three years. Part time rates start at $1.23 and range up to $1.28.

The negotiating committee included Hartman, Donald Bucy, Edwin Hartman, William Byers, Andrew Smith and William Folk, for the union, and J. A. Cowie, Merle McCandless and William Sweeney, for the company.

Slate Is Filed For Convention

A slate of seven prominent Allegany County Democrats was filed late last night shortly before the midnight deadline with the County Board of Election Supervisors to serve as delegates to the State Democratic Convention.

Unopposed, they automatically will represent the county in the state convention, where they will be required to cast the county's seven votes in the U. S. Senate race the way the majority of county Democrats vote May 7. They also will have a hand in instructing the Maryland delegation to the National Democratic Convention.

The slate filed by Thomas B. Finan, chairman of the Democrat State Central Committee, includes Robert E. Barnard Jr., Thomas F. Conlon Jr., William V. Keegan, Julius E. Schindler, Leslie J. Clark, William L. Wilson and Edward J. Ryan.

No Republicans filed. As a consequence the GOP State Central Committee will select a slate of convention delegates.

Flood Protection Levees, Walls Engineered To Last

By C. W. BLACKBURN
News Staff Writer

The levees which are being built along the Potomac River in connection with the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection project look like simple banks of earth.

They are not. They are precisely engineered structures which incorporate principles evolved through centuries of experience in many countries which are subject to devastating floods.

The basic levees which are being constructed here are earth structures which stand about 15 feet high and are about 100 feet wide at the base.

Begins With Trench

The levee begins with an inspection trench, dug down to suitable material or to water level for an average depth of about six feet.

This sloping trench is then filled and tamped with selected improved materials. It serves a dual purpose of a foundation for the core of the levee and a barrier to the seepage of water beneath the levee.

Extending from the filled in inspection trench to the top of the levee is a 10-foot wide core of impervious material. Random fill is tamped on both sides of this impervious core.

The basic shape of the levee used here is determined by a "three on one" formula — three foot of slope for each foot of rise.

450 Pounds Of Pressure

Materials are spread on the levee in one-foot layers and then tamped with "sheep's foot" rollers which apply some 450 pounds of pressure for each square inch of surface on each of the feet.

The rollers must make at least four passes over each layer of earth.

Officials of the Corps of Engineers make regular compaction tests to make sure that the maximum degree of compaction has been reached.

Moisture content is a major factor in the compaction, so the work must be halted when the ground is frosted or too wet. The fill is sprinkled when it is too dry to reach maximum compaction.

Foot by foot, the levee is laid and tamped until it is within four or five inches of the correct height.

Then topsoil is added so the surface can be seeded with a grass mixture suitable for this area.

Variations are made, however, when land costs or heavy currents make some other form expedient.

Stone Paving Used

When the angle is sharper than "three on one" or when currents might erode the levee, stone paving called "rip rap" is used on the stream side of the levee.

Plans for the $18,000,000 project call for the construction of some 10,000 feet of levee along the banks of the Potomac River.

A properly constructed and maintained levee will last from now on, but it has one weak point—it erodes rapidly if water begins to pour over the top.

Since plans prepared by the Corps of Engineers provide protection from a flood 25 per cent greater than that experienced in 1936, no difficulty should be experienced from that point.

Concrete Wall

At two points on the Potomac River, the Corps of Engineers is using concrete flood wall in place of levees.

The wall, including some 800 feet in West Cumberland and about 600 feet under construction in Ridgeley, is being used in locations where the saving in land costs make it expedient to use the more expensive type of construction.

A third type of flood protection is being used on Wills Creek.

When the project is completed, the Corps of Engineers will have paved some 8,200 feet of the slopes of the creek in a swift water plan. Vertical concrete walls will be used along the sides of the creek from near the Queen City Brewing Company plant to the mouth of Wills Creek.

Expressway Light Plan Discussed

Decisions Awaiting Design Of Structure

A meeting was held in City Hall yesterday afternoon to discuss the lighting of the Crosstown Expressway.

William J. Edwards, commissioner of water and electric light, who presided, said no decisions were made at the exploratory meeting. Definite plans for lighting, he added, cannot be made until the design of the big project is approved.

Attending the session were W. A. Cowan and S. L. Lemmons, of Green Associates, who are designing the major part of the expressway for the Maryland State Roads Commission; L. C. Cessna and Oscar H. Lashley Jr., of the Potomac Edison Company; C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, and James Alfred Avirett.

Edwards said there are two possibilities for the installation of the lights on the project, to have the Potomac Edison Company install the lights and be reimbursed by the city, or to lump installation and service together and pay an annual fee per light, as is done in other street lighting here.

He said PE spokesmen said no definite decision can be made on the lighting plans until it is determined whether the cross-town viaduct section is to be two 24-foot lanes or two 36 foot lanes.

He said the consensus was that mercury vapor lamps would be preferable on the structure, adding he believes it would be foolish not to use the most modern and efficient type.

Lights on the bridge portion, he said, would be set on metal standards, fixed upon bases installed when the bridge is built. On approaches, lights would be set on wooden poles, as in residential areas.

Agriculture Specialists Study County Sub-Soiling

A group of specialists from the Soil Conservation Service and the Agricultural Research Center at Beltsville are spending part of two days in Allegany County as they start a week long Maryland Plant Technology Conference.

Their principal interest in this county, according to Martin M. Gordon of the local work unit of the SCS, is to observe and study the results of sub-soiling in this county's shale soil.

The group left the Allegany Inn at noon yesterday for a tour of the Branch watershed in the Piney Plains section at the eastern end of the county. Their first stop was at the state wild turkey propagation farm at Belle Grove. Later they visited the farms of Dale, Paul and Marshall Mann, Kenneth Smith and Floyd Joy.

Last night Clarence Britt, a project supervisor for the Agricultural Research Center, and Gordon showed slides of conservation measures on the Branch, which flows into Sideling Hill Creek, and the Town Creek Valley.

This morning the visitors will stop at farms in the Town Creek area. At the farm of Albert Slider they will examine alfalfa plots, some of which received sub-soiling and some which did not. They will go to the farm of Edward Shryock where the first sub-soiling in the county was done in May 1951. Tree planting on the farm of Roy Shryock Sr. also will be checked.

The group will go on to Hancock for lunch and will visit several orchards this afternoon before

Man To Face Arson Charge In Hotel Fire

JOHN E. GEARE

Blake Is Held In County Jail

Edward S. Blake, 40-year-old Cumberland man, yesterday was charged with arson and held in Allegany County Jail on $1,000 bond pending action of the April grand jury.

The charge was preferred by Assistant State's Attorney James S. Getty and State Police Sgt. William F. Baker following investigation of a fire which started in the lobby of the Brooks Hotel on Baltimore Avenue Sunday morning.

Sgt. James Brown and Officer George Furstenberg of the City Police Department arrested Blake about 3:30 a. m. Sunday, shortly after the fire was discovered at 3:15.

Sgt. Baker said the fire apparently was started from turpentine which was spread alongside a cigarette machine on the first floor of the building and ignited.

Firemen said approximately 30 persons were asleep in the hotel at the time of the blaze which did not gain headway and was quickly extinguished. Walls and base boards were burned and the entire building was filled with smoke.

Blake was questioned in the State's Attorney's office yesterday by Getty and Sgt. Baker and told them he had been drinking heavily at the time. He said he did not remember setting the fire or having been arrested.

Getty told the court at the preliminary hearing yesterday in Trial Magistrate's Court that Blake had paid for a room in the hotel for a month in advance although he lives with his wife on North Centre Street.

The defendant told authorities, Getty said, he did not use the room and attempted to get his money back but was refused by the hotel management.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick set bond after Blake waived preliminary hearing and the state prayed a jury trial. Blake indicated he would ask immediate trial on criminal information.

Keegan Pledges Aid To School Safety Plan

Police Department officials yesterday pledged full cooperation with a Virginia Avenue PTA committee in getting children to and from the school safely.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said he and Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn conferred with the committee yesterday afternoon.

Measures, the Police Department officials said, will include the installation of a walk light on the traffic signal at Virginia Avenue and Second Street.

The light, Chief Flynn said, will provide one walk light after a red and green—the same cycle as is used on Baltimore Street.

He said the officer on the Virginia Avenue beat will work the crossing each day and that the cruiser car will work the light at the B & O YMCA.

Chief Flynn also announced two changes will be made in the traffic control system for the Cumberland-Ridgeley bridge.

They will include the moving of the light on the bridge approach to the intersection with Green Street, and the installation of a half-pad in the middle lane leading to the bridge, so a driver wishing to enter the approach can trip the light when an incoming car is not using the approach.

Both changes, he said, will help to speed up traffic.

Boy Touches High Tension Wire, Burned

Stewart Broadwater In "Poor Condition"

A 15-year-old Jennings youth was severely burned about the hands, arms, legs and head Sunday when a light wire he was playing with came into contact with a high tension line.

Admitted to Meyersdale, Pa., Community Hospital in "very poor condition" was Stewart Broadwater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Broadwater of Jennings. Attaches said last night the boy was still unconscious from the shock and burns received in the mishap.

Playing In Yard

Trooper Glen Folk, Maryland State Police, who investigated the accident said the victim was playing about 1 p. m. in the back yard of his home with a younger sister. He had taken a bead wire from an old automobile tire and was tossing it into the air when the light strand of wire touched a 7,200-volt high tension line which crossed over the yard about 100 feet to the rear of the Broadwater house.

The severe jolt the youth received while holding onto the wire strand knocked him to the ground unconscious.

His sister screamed for help and neighbors immediately rushed the boy by auto to Grantsville where he was transferred to an ambulance and taken to the Meyersdale hospital.

Trooper Folk, notified of the accident, called ahead to the hospital to make arrangements for his admittance immediately.

Folk said last night he and the father returned to the scene of the accident and, using a long wooden pole, knocked the wire strand loose from the high tension line where it had fused and was dangling about three feet from the ground.

Wearing Bonis

The state trooper said young Broadwater was wearing arctic rubber boots at the time the mishap occurred and this probably was instrumental in keeping him from being killed instantly by the jolt of electricity which was not completely grounded.

Folk added he was not certain how the boy threw the light wire over the high tension line which was 30 feet above the ground.

Hospital attaches said the boy had severe burns of the left hand and arm, left leg and the back of the head.
